

ATTENDANCE

The process of education requires a regular continuity of instruction, classroom participation, learning experiences, and study in order to reach the goal of maximum educational benefits for each individual child. Regular participation in learning activities under the guidance and instruction of an effective teacher, as well as regular interactions with peers in the classroom, are essential to the learning process. Education is much more than written assignments or homework; it also encompasses instruction, formative assessment, intervention and support, discussion, peer interaction, and collaborative work that occurs in the classroom. Most of the learning that takes place in a classroom cannot be replicated or sent home as homework. When a child is not in school, learning opportunities are lost. This is an established principle of education that underlies and gives purpose to the statutory requirement of compulsory schooling in this state.

Regular attendance also reflects a student's dependability and is a significant factor on the student's permanent record. Future Employers are as much concerned about punctuality and dependability as they are about academic record. Regular and punctual attendance has a significant impact on school success, scholarship, and job opportunities.

Therefore, the intent of the Board of Trustees is to have students attend school on a regular basis since regular and consistent attendance results in increased learning.

1. Definition of Attendance

- a. In accordance with Idaho Administrative (IDAPA) Rule 08.02.01.250.03, being in attendance means that a student is under the guidance and direction of a teacher or other authorized school district personnel when school is in session.

2. Attendance Requirements

a. 90% Attendance Requirement

To be in full compliance with the attendance policy of the Board of Trustees, students are required to be in attendance at school at least ninety percent (90%) of the time school is in session during each trimester. At each grade level, on a trimester schedule, this means:

- i. Elementary schools: Not being absent from school more than six (6) full days or twelve (12) half days in a trimester.
- ii. Middle schools and high schools: Not being absent from a class more than six (6) times in a trimester.
- iii. Online and Alternative Schools: Students enrolled in Bonneville Online or an alternative school should refer to their school's attendance regulations.

b. Chronic Absenteeism / Habitual Truancy

Students who meet either of the following conditions will be considered as being chronically absent / habitually truant and will be subject to additional corrective actions.

- i. Habitual truancy: Having a pattern of absences from school without the knowledge and permission of parents/guardians, or
- ii. Chronic absenteeism: Being in attendance less than 80% of the time that school is in session.

3. Categories of Student Absencesa. School Approved Activities

The following conditions meet the IDAPA definition for attendance and are defined as school approved activities that do not count as absences when determining the ninety percent (90%) attendance requirement.

- i. Participation in school services such as:
 1. Individual tests by school officials, or
 2. Conferences with school or State officials.
- ii. School security actions or emergency situations such as:
 1. Emergency procedure drills,
 2. School evacuations and early dismissals,
 3. Late buses, etc.
- iii. Participation in school-sponsored activities under the direction of authorized school personnel, Idaho High School Activities Association related events, academic field trips, and other school-approved co-curricular activities.
 1. Permission to participate must be obtained in advance from teachers and/or the principal/designee.
 2. Participation in activities sponsored by non-school organizations shall not be designated as school-excused activities because they do not meet the IDAPA definition for school attendance.

b. Parent Verified Absences

Absences from class that are taken with the knowledge and permission of the parents/guardians of a minor student.

- i. Parental permission is not valid when a student misses class and remains on school grounds unless prior permission has been granted by the school principal/designee.
- ii. Parents / guardians are expected to verify student absences prior to the absence and must be reported no later than 48 hours after the student returns to school.
- iii. All parent verified absences will count against the ninety percent (90%) attendance requirement, including absences incurred for any of the following reasons:
 1. Family vacations,
 2. Routine doctor, vision, dental or other related appointments,
 3. Illness,
 - a. Students who do not feel well enough to attend school are encouraged to stay home, especially if they exhibit symptoms including fevers, nausea, diarrhea or vomiting. The expectation for students to be in attendance at school ninety-percent of the time allows for these types of situations.
 - b. As explained in the following section, with a doctor's order, parent verified absences due to a student contracting a serious illness or experiencing injury or hospitalization will not be included when determining whether a student has excessive absenteeism from school.
 4. Legal obligations,
 5. Any travel that is not part of a school-sponsored activity,

c. Bereavement

- i. When students are absent from school because of the death of a close family member or family friend, they will be marked absent from school using a code to denote bereavement.
- ii. While absences due to bereavement cannot be reported as being in attendance at school; absences for bereavement will not be included when determining whether a student has excessive absenteeism from

d. Students with Chronic or Serious Health Conditions

- i. Chronic Health Conditions. If students develop a chronic health condition which prevents them from attending school regularly, the school principal / designee should arrange to meet with the students' parents/guardians to develop a plan to support their academic progress.
 1. If the health condition is determined to be a disability, defined as a physical or mental impairment which substantially limits one or more major life activities, then the plan should be developed by the appropriate 504 or IEP team.
 2. If the health condition is not determined to be a disability, the school principal / designee will work with the parents and assigned classroom teachers to develop a medical accommodation plan for the student to support their academic progress.
 3. Plans should include a provision to code absences due to the student's health condition as a "Medical absence" that will not be included when determining whether a student has excessive absenteeism from school.
- ii. Other Serious Health Conditions. When a licensed health practitioner provides a medical order that prevents a student from attending school in person due to contracting a contagious illness or injury or if a student is hospitalized, the absences will be coded as "Medical absences (MED)" and will not be included when determining whether a student has excessive absenteeism from school.
- iii. Confidentiality of Health Information. School staff, including teachers, whom the school principal determines have a "legitimate educational interest" in the information will be informed of the accommodations identified in the plan; however the confidentiality of medical information shall be respected at the parent's/guardian's request.
- iv. Remote Learning. Students who are able to continue their learning through online or remote instruction under the direction of their classroom teacher or teachers will be considered as being present at school.

e. Unverified Absences / Truancy

Any absence from school without the knowledge and permission of a minor student's parents/guardian shall be designated as an unexcused absence / truancy.

- i. All unverified absences will count against the ninety percent (90%) attendance requirement.
- ii. Any absence from school without the knowledge and permission of parents/guardians is considered to be a truancy and will be subject to discipline as outlined in the Student Code of Conduct.

- ii. Suspended students will not be counted as truant, and make-up work will be required.

4. Notifications to Parents

a. Unverified Absences

- i. Each school shall implement an automated notification system to promptly inform parents and legal guardians whenever their student is absent from school and the absence has not been reported to the school in advance.
- ii. Upon receiving such notice, parents / guardians are responsible to report the reason for the absence to the school if the student is absent from school with their permission. Any absence from school without the knowledge and permission of parents/guardians is considered to be a truancy and will be subject to discipline as outlined in the Student Code of Conduct.

b. Notification of Noncompliance with Attendance Policy

Principals/designees are required to notify parents/legal guardians when students' attendance is not in compliance with the provisions of this policy.

- i. 6th Absence. Parents/guardians will be notified in writing of the sixth (6th) absence from one or more classes during a trimester and the requirement for the student to participate in makeup sessions for subsequent absences.
- ii. 9th Absence. Parents/guardians will be notified in writing of a student's ninth (9th) absence from one or more classes during the trimester. This notification should include a request for the parents/guardians to meet in person with the school administration.

School principals are also expected to make a good-faith effort to contact the student's parents/guardians before taking additional corrective actions specified below.

1. If possible, principals should attempt to speak to parents/guardians in a personal phone call.
 2. When necessary, principals may contact parents through text messages or emails. Such messages should include a request for parents to call the school to discuss the attendance concerns.
- iii. 12th Absence. Parents/guardians will be notified in writing of a student's twelfth (12th) absence from one or more classes. This notification shall include notice of impending disciplinary actions, including

- i. The parents / guardians have provided documentation of a medical condition that has prevented the student from attending school,
- ii. The student has an IDEA plan (IEP), 504 plan, or medical plan that includes accommodations for absences from school,
- iii. The parents / guardians have met with the school administration in advance to develop a plan for a student to be designated as a self-directed learner while they are absent from school for an extended period of time.

- v. Disenrollment from Class. The school administration may disenroll a student from a class in which they have been chronically absent or habitually truant. Prior to disenrolling the student, the school principal should attempt to arrange a conference with the student's parents/guardians to inform them of the reasons for the disenrollment.
 1. Students who are disenrolled from a class for being chronically absent or habitually truant will not receive credit for the class and will receive an "F" for the class.
