XVII. Administrative Reports/Information Items

A. Report on the State of the District - Lloyd Becker, District Crisis Team Coordinator

Chairman Jenkins invited Lloyd Becker to give the State of the District Report. Mr. Becker is a clinical social worker who has worked in the District over 30 years. The Crisis Team was started about 8 years ago. There are four members of the team: three current school counselors and Mr. Becker. The Team assists schools, students, and staff when a crisis occurs. Crisis can include death of a student, staff member or administrator due to medical, accident or suicide; mental health issues, lockdowns, or natural disasters. When a principal senses a need for help, they contact the Deputy Superintendent. The crisis team is summoned to review the situation and determine the best course of action.

B. Administrative Financial Report - Guy Wangsgard, CFO

Chairman Jenkins invited Guy Wangsgard to present his report. Mr. Wangsgard explained the main internal controls in district: All schools in the District are on the same accounting program; before any vendors are added all information is verified by one of three District staff members; the only regular electronic payments are sent from payroll to the IRS, State Tax Department and PERSI; direct deposits are set up for interested employees; all invoices are paid by check to an authorized vendor either by mail or personal delivery; all invoice addresses must match the vendor information on file; all cash and bank balances are verified each morning by District office staff; bank statements are balanced monthly by the same person; all purchase orders go through an approval process; review of current fraud issues are reviewed monthly; accounting software has internal controls built in to avoid duplicate transactions. The process of draw requires approval from the contractor and/or architect and district representative and Director. If the check is a significant amount they are often hand delivered or picked up at the District office. There are not any electronic draws since original signatures are required.

As for the budget this year, attendance rate is down slightly from last year, which decreases state revenue. This decline will not drop the District below a 5% contingency.
